

JOY

ISAIAH 35:1-10

1. Joy in God’s _____ . (v.1-2)

“Joy pervades Isaiah 35... What must he be, if the mere sight of him transforms us from death into life? It is so foolish to hold God at arm’s length. He himself is the desire of your heart. And he wants you to see his glory, both now by faith and in Heaven face to face.” -- Ray Ortlund

2. Joy in God’s _____ . (v.3-7)

“A prison cell like this is a good analogy for Advent. One waits, hopes, does this or that — ultimately negligible things — the door is locked and can only be opened from the outside.” -- Dietrich Bonhoeffer

LUKE 7:20-22

3. Joy in God’s _____ . (v.8-10)

4. Joy in God’s _____. (Luke 2:8-14)

LUKE 2:8-14

JOY

ISAIAH 35:1-10

5. Joy in God’s PROMISE. (v.1-2)

“Joy pervades Isaiah 35... What must he be, if the mere sight of him transforms us from death into life? It is so foolish to hold God at arm’s length. He himself is the desire of your heart. And he wants you to see his glory, both now by faith and in Heaven face to face.” -- Ray Ortlund

6. Joy in God’s SALVATION. (v.3-7)

“A prison cell like this is a good analogy for Advent. One waits, hopes, does this or that — ultimately negligible things — the door is locked and can only be opened from the outside.” -- Dietrich Bonhoeffer

LUKE 7:20-22

7. Joy in God’s PATHWAY. (v.8-10)

8. Joy in God’s SON. (Luke 2:8-14)

LUKE 2:8-14
